

Please, please, please do not let the telemarketers interrupt what is now a very peaceful evening. Why should we be subjected to noisy telephone calls and annoying people trying to sell us something we can't afford. Also when we are on the phone with them we might miss an important call for those of us who opt not to have call waiting (more money). Please, please let us live in peace. Thank you!!!